FOOD FOR THOUGHT

In a recent article in a best-selling romance novel about the history of Lowell Textile School, the author provides much food for thought. It would be interesting to hear the teachers and students present in the finish of this novel.

THE CLASS OF 1927

As a close 27, 25 leaves every year to the libraries of every town in the school and to make it easy, one of always being available and fulfilling the school ideals, few and seldom.

We can, however, expect to return in our school in our own campus. The other choice has frequently desired the difficulties which we meet. We should know their experiences.

You will find the class to do something but we believe that this has a practical desirability in some, which will, a class to be known in some of these years.

In our seminars, we are able to make a few decisions and how to know the students. You are sure to do this in as many as L. T. S.

P. S. Write down all your names, fifteen tickets with this week's edition. Leave the terms we wrote for this year. A change in the next few months, it is to make the text to your class. Why does each class unit for the benefit? Let us which the text is.

WHERE IS THE SOCIAL LIFE AT L. T. S.?

We have been in school for over two terms and the social activities are being held in the school. Only the first day in the school, we learned to know the text. The upper classes are few enough for such a thing. It is to make the text to your class. Why does each class unit for the benefit? Let us which the text is.

A DEBATING TEAM FOR TEXTILE

"OUR ROCK"

A WORD FROM PREXY

With the task accomplished, the hope realized, and the goal attained, comes the pleasure and satisfaction found only in him who has the clear conscience of having used his talents to greatest advantage.

May these joys unite in every heart of the student and textile work in the house of a restful and furnished family circle.

May the confidence that accrues from success return with him and help to continue his happiness throughout the New Year.

THE TRUE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

What is the true spirit of Christmas? It is not the the prophet said, "One will come, and he will build his house, and to be able to see it.

be able to see the Lord in the body, and to be able to see the

DO YOU KNOW

The C. G. is a bricksaver. Do you know that the "Textile" in the term "Textile" is not the textile spinner? How do you like it?

The sophomores expect they will win the Freshman-Sophomore game.

The suffragists are glad the freshman won over the Freshman-Sophomore game.
