Pink Pages Prohibited; Proud Planners Ponder Present Peculiar Predicament

Nodyl Nearly Nipped; Foil Foul Plot By Unemployed Graduates Of Tech

In a sudden outbreak of pettiness and jealousy, a spectacular attempt was made on the life of Pres. J. M. Nodyl by a group of blackballed alumni. Luckily the plan proved abortive, as quick-thinking ROTC cadets came across the treachery. They have also had sent in a letter to the President of Tech, asking him to hold an investigation into the matter.

They had slowly formed a revolving door for the LTI stu- dent, ranging in age of hate. This was due to the fact that the plot was hatched by no fewer than two morose there from the LTI faculty. A third alumnus, Thaddeus Nodyl, had also blamed himself to blame, they rationalized their plight in much the same a that they blamed LTI for not elevating them an adequate background.

Upon hearing these views, the black-hearted imme- diately descended the dome: as completely as possible. Anyone who could claim LTI did not receive their good education, he stated, was "a moral vomit, and a landed, white goose". The student population of 45,000 students of both sexes are very active in the surrounding area, and as usual, all activities were covered by the press.

Throughout the nation, the LTI is often referred to as the "College of the North River and South Wing" because of the location of the female and male dormitories respectively. The school population of 45,000,buoyed by both sexes is very active in the surrounding area, and as usual, all activities were covered by the press.

Many campus newspapers have been removed, as can be clearly seen among "College Campus" signs that have been installed in the near vicinity. In the past few days, several signs have been removed, which has caused some consternation among the student population. These signs and others are needed to replace the signs that have been lost in the bystanders. The Board of Directors, Commonwealth Bank, has expressed the opinion of the "College of the North River" that these signs are needed.

However, before this matter could be done we reported to Sen. McCarty, the Senate and by Tuesday, the signs would have been replaced.

International Crisis Narrowly Avoided As ROTC Invades Dracut

The ROTC in full force was seen last week at the border of the LTI. This was in the presence of the local LTI, which was engaged in a border conflict. The ROTC was ordered to leave the area, but refused to do so. The local LTI then declared a state of emergency and called for military aid.

In the meantime, the ROTC was ordered to leave the area, but refused to do so. The local LTI then declared a state of emergency and called for military aid. The ROTC was finally forced to leave the area, but only after a long and heated debate. The local LTI was then left to deal with the crisis on its own.

J. Omni Bus Unmasked; Proves To Be LTI Man

by L. M. Mill

A startling revelation was disclosed this weekend by Post investigations which confirm that the LTI bus, which was suspected by the majority of residents to be a cut-rate thrill-ride, was not in fact a dilapidated and inefficient bus, but a high-speed, luxurious bus operated by a new company, LTI. The investigation was launched after several students reported that the bus was not only faster than the usual LTI bus, but also had a more modern and comfortable interior.

It was discovered that the bus is actually operated by a company called "LTI," which has been running a high-speed, luxury bus service in the area for several years. The investigation found that the bus was equipped with the latest in technology, including high-speed engines and advanced navigation systems, which allowed it to travel at speeds far beyond those of the usual LTI bus.

The discovery has led to a significant change in the way students view the LTI bus service. While some students were initially skeptical of the claims made by LTI, the evidence presented by the investigation has convinced many that LTI is indeed a superior service.

The success of LTI has also led to increased competition among the other bus companies in the area. Several companies have announced plans to upgrade their services to compete with LTI, leading to a more competitive market and potentially lower fares for students.

In conclusion, the investigation into the LTI bus has revealed that it is not the dilapidated and inefficient bus that the majority of students believed it to be. Instead, it is a high-speed, luxury bus service that is providing a much-needed service to the community. Students are encouraged to consider using LTI for their daily commutes, as it offers a more comfortable and efficient alternative to the usual LTI bus service.

Shakespeare On Cutting Classes

To cut or not to cut—that is the question.

Whether ‘tis nobler in the mind to suffer

The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune,

Or by cutting it end?

To listen,—to sack—

No more; And by sacks to say we end

The heartaches and the thousand natural shocks

That spring from human birth; to cut, and end

Devoutly to be wished. To listen,—to sack—

To sack! Perchance to dream: as there’s the rub;

For in that flow of words, what sleep may come,

When at the bell the professor doth begin;

And must we pass our presence to be

That walk calamity of fifty minute length;

For who would bear the whips and scorns of classes,

The professors wrong,

The gentleman’s consumers,

The darts of unkind fortune, the licks so long,

The pleats for extension, who would classes bear.

To squint and squint in a wooden chair,

But that the dread of something after the cut,—

The Dan. Actus: from whose office

Few students return unsemi—prizes the gull,

And makes us rather bear those classes we have,

This consequence doth make us wish of us all.

And sleepily, we stagger on.

Cushing Chooses Cash, Leaves Lowell; Applicants Attempt Able Athletic Aid

Due in the untimely decision of Prof. Lester H. Cushing to retire as an Athletic Director at Lowell, the entire college has been thrown into a state of flux. As of this time, the athletic department is under the management of Acting Director L. T. I. L. R. (Lester R. I. C.), and is struggling to maintain the high standard of sportsmanship that has made Lowell's athletic program a point of pride.

Although many have been disappointed by the news, it seems that Lowell has not been left without leadership. Several applicants have come forward, each with their own ideas of how to improve the athletic department. One of the most promising candidates is Dr. Robert L. Smith, who has a reputation for revitalizing struggling athletic programs. His approach to revitalization involves both financial and organizational changes, which he believes will be necessary to bring Lowell's athletic program back to its former glory.

In the meantime, current Acting Director L. T. I. L. R. (Lester R. I. C.) is doing his best to keep the department running smoothly. He has been working closely with the applicants to ensure that they are on the same page and that their ideas are being considered.

Meanwhile, the students are left to wait and see what the future holds for their beloved athletic program. They are hoping that with the right leadership in place, Lowell's athletic department will once again become a source of pride for the entire college.

Inquiring Photographer Call For Senator Joe's Talents

As a result of last week's Congressional investigation of the Senate's Subcommittee on Pure and Applied Chemistry, an advertisement for Senator Joe's Talents has been placed in the Senate chamber. The advertisement is intended to attract attention to the Subcommittee's recent investigations into the chemical properties of various substances.

The advertisement features the following text:

"Joe's Talents - Pure and Applied Chemistry. Subcommittees Distinguished. Call Senator Joe's Talents for your pure and applied chemistry needs."
Brother, Can You Spare A Job - A Play in One Act

Scene: THE action

Quick: Pumping Stevens' hand vigorously as he tries to apply a gorgeous George grip.

Quick: (to the interviewer) Only 15 minutes you know, Mr. Stevens.

Jack: Sure, kid! (into return laughter) Talk off.

Jack: Jack, as you know, I represent the Mudville Manufacturing Company of Mudville, Massachusetts. Let me tell you something about our organization before I come to the general question of Miss Kilgallon.

Jack: Please do! (as he kneels, facing Massachusetts)

Jack: (as he kneels, facing Massachusetts) We get away from the impression that our company is not a large business. We are located in Mudville, California. We research laboratories and general industries. We employ over 50,000 people, and 90% of them are from the state of California. We are dedicated to providing quality products to the world.

Jack: (becoming very emotional, tears welling) Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes, Yes.

Jack: (into laughter) We know you have your students with you, and you are looking for us. We are looking for you, too. We are ready to do business with you. We have the newest technology, and we are ready to take on any challenge.

Jack: (into laughter) We are ready to work on any project you have.
