Upstream Day to Be Held
On May 10th

Lowell Textile's annual Upstream Day will definitely be held on Wednesday, May 10, if at least two-thirds of the student body signify their intention of attending. The usual good time can be expected, as is the case for the benefit of the freshmen, President B. Russell Cummings of the Executive Council will speak to them as a group in the near future.

It is expected that Canoe Park in Salem, N.H., will be available. There will be the usual sports of all sorts throughout the day including foot races, horse shoes, medicine ball, touch football, roller skating, frisbee, orange rush, and others. The morning will feature baseball games between the freshmen and sophomores and between the seniors and the faculty. In the afternoon all the juniors will play the Seniors and the winners of this game will play against the winners of the morning game for the Class Championship.

It is impossible to overlook the big banquet at noon and the welcome buffet supper at night. There is always more than plenty for everybody on the festive occasion.

Free transportation on chartered busses is available to all who cannot find other transportation.

Upstream Day is an old tradition at Textile and it is heartily approved by the administration as long as the interest of at least two-thirds of the student body is shown.

Committees of members of the Executive Council, supervised by Prof. Cushing, will encompass the entire activities to determine the exact number planning to attend.

The cost for the entire day including meals and prizes is only $1.50 and the usual money's worth is promised. A club plan has been formulated permitting all who have paid at $3.25 by that day to attend and to carry out the rest of the payments throughout the month of May.

Further details concerning Upstream Day will appear on the Athletic Bulletin Board and in the TEXT.

Lowell Men Appointed To Faculty

E. Francis O'Day and Edward J. Sullivan Elected Instructors as Trustees Fill Vacancies.

E. Francis O'Day, former basketball coach at Lowell high school, and Edward J. Sullivan were elected instructors at Lowell Textile Institute at a quarterly meeting of the board of trustees recently. At the same time, two instructors at the Institute were promoted to the rank of assistant professor to all vacancies caused by the death of Prof. Percy J. Reed and Prof. Frederick S. Beatty.

Horton Brown, instructor in mathematics, was promoted to assistant professor, and his position will be filled by Mr. O'Day. John H. Skidmore, an instructor in chemistry, was also promoted to assistant professor, and his position in the lower brackets will be filled by Mr. Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan was recently employed by the state unemployment compensation commission, and Mr. Sullivan was recently named a member of the staff of the Lowell Gas Co. Both appointments are subject to approval by the personnel division of the State Department of Education.

The Haunted House" and Famous Fenton Bros. Orchestra Share Honors on Friday, April 28th at the Rex Auditorium and Ballroom.

On Friday evening, April 28, at eight o'clock in the Rex Auditorium and Ballroom, the strains of the famous Fenton Brothers Orchestra will salute the annual presentation of the Lowell Textile players entitled "The Haunted House." Following is a synopsis of the three act mystery comedy.

The Haunted House," originally produced by the George M. Cohan Theater in New York City some years ago, has a cast of eleven characters and at the time it was first presented starred the well-known actor, Wallace Edinger. It is truly an American comedy and throughout its three acts the situations are extremely humorous.

A newly married couple arrive to spend their honeymoon in a summer cottage owned by the girl's father, who has begged them not to go there, because he claims the house is haunted. At last immediately after their arrival strange sounds are heard in the house. The bride leaves the room for a few moments. When she returns, her husband is talking very convulsively to a young woman, who claims he had trouble with her automobile down the road and he goes out to assist her. But when he comes back, his wife's suspicions force him to confess that the girl is an old sweetheart of his. The girl is subsequently reported murdered, and the bride believes his husband committed the crime. A neighbor, who is an out-of-town private detective, decides to solve the murder, meantime calling in a prominent New York detective who is vacationing in the town. As they proceed, everyone in the section becomes involved. But the whole thing terminates in a laugh with the most unexpected and unexpected conclusion imaginable.

Omicron Pi Formol at Andover, April 29

The annual Spring banquet and formal of the Phi Pi Fraternity promises to be one of the most successful of recent years. Following the example of last year, which was held at the Vesper Country Club, the site of so many successful formal functions.

The music will be furnished by Ken Reeves and his orchestra, one of the best dance orchestras in New England. Dancing from 7:45 P.M. to 1:30 A.M.

The guests of honor will be the alumni of the fraternity, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dudley, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bell.

The chairman of the committee, Robert Turner, is being ably aided by his assistants, Gordon Leary, Robert Fadl and Donald Hoffman.

All in all, the evening promises to write a new page in the history of Lowell Textile's social life, and should be enjoyed by no one who can possibly be present that night.

Lecture Given On Acadia National Park

MOVIES SHOWN

Addressing a large group in the assembly hall of the Lowell Textile Institute, Maurice Sullivan, chief naturalist of the Acadia National Park at Bar Harbor, Me., explained the natural facilities of the resort, supplementing his remarks with several reels of color pictures. Introduced by Prof. Charles H. Evans, Mr. Sullivan first presented an over-all view of the coast pointing out a deer crossing the road. He then showed the entire beauty of the coast, from its beaches to its forests.

The second set of films was concerned with the otter on a ledge of a cliff above the ocean, the highest mountain on the Atlantic seacoast, and showed scenes of the different activities of the park, depicting the beauty of the woods and southern exposure. During the entire screening, Mr. Sullivan explained and outlined the various activities of the park.

Also shown were pictures of bird and animal life of the park, which was brought out in the course of a question period approximately 300 square miles. The speaker received more than 50 questions from the audience, all of which he answered clearly and directly.

The final films were concerned with the fire department, the maintenance of the grounds of the park, the assistance of the park rangers, and other interesting scenes of the park.

The audience was enthusiastic throughout the show, and many of those present expressed their appreciation of the film and the interest it generated in the park.

BENNY GOODMAN

Looking over our files, we find that we have almost neglected our friend Benny Goodman, the great clarinetist of the world. Benny Goodman started playing clarinet at the age of six years, and has had a lifelong love for the instrument.

Benny was born in Chicago on August 30, 1914, and began his career as a clarinetist at an early age. He started playing in various small ensembles, and soon became known throughout the city. At the age of 14, he joined the Benny Goodman Orchestra as a clarinetist and began his career as a professional musician.

Benny Goodman is considered one of the greatest clarinetists of all time, and his influence on the world of music cannot be underestimated. He has won numerous awards and accolades throughout his career, and his music has inspired generations of musicians.

His most famous recordings include "avec swing," "the swing of a lifetime," and "one o'clock jump." His influence on the world of music is immeasurable, and his legacy continues to influence musicians today.

Murphy, '26, as Morgan, the tramp; Theodore W. Fox, '40, as Emily, the bride; Charles A. Merritt, '29, as Jack, the groom; Sal- ford F. Sweeny, '40, as Thomas, the chauffeur; Frederick L. Strand, '39, as Duncan, the author; Philip Caine, '40, as Helen, the wife; William T. Reed, '28, as Isabel, the girl; William B. Pres-cott, '29, as Isaiah, the constable; Everett C. Reed, '39, as Ed, the fullman; Silas M. Wheeler, '39, as Grogan, the detective; Russell H. Cunningham, '40, as Evans, the father.

The members of the cast have been rehearsing steadily and diligently in order that "The Haunt- ed House" may be one of the most successful and enjoyable presentations ever offered by the Players. Charles J. Keesey, for the ninth consecutive year, is directing the production.

Fenton Bros. Orchestra

Dancing after the Show from 10:00 to 2:00 and the Players feel extremely fortunate in having secured the famous Fenton Bros. Orchestra as this band is without a doubt the top-notch New Eng- land outfit. This band is one of the fastest coming "name" bands and is certain to please the ear of all who hear it. Mr. Fenton carries a personnel of twelve stellar musicians each an artist on his own respective instrument. The featured vocalist with this band is an aggrega- tion that is inimitable of the favorites, Rudy Vallee, and in him you want your own fraternity rep- resentatives or from any of the officers.

This year's officers of the Low-ell Textile Institute Players com- prise the following: Frederick L. Beachard, '39, president; Theodore W. Fox, '40, vice-president; Charles A. Merritt, '29, secretary; Professor Emser E. Pickett, fa- culty adviser and treasurer, and Professor Russell L. Brown, asso- ciate faculty adviser.

The Lowell Textile Players absolutely guarantee the finest enjoyment in a long time to those who attend and it is sincere hope that you enjoy your own fraternity rep- resentatives or from any of the officers.

The PLAYERS WILL BE ON THE AIR TUESDAY, APRIL 14, and OVER WLLT at 6:30 P.M. LISTEN FOR THEM.

See you at the big event of the year—THE TEXTILE SHOW AND DANCE, April 28th, at the Rex Auditorium and Ballroom!

THE TEXT

Phlome Pickhers

A most successful roller-danc- ing party was held at the Cres- cent Room, April 12. Many people attended who did not attend our last party. The entertainment has been featured at practically every leading dance location in the East. So whether you like sweet or swing, rumba or Waltz, your musical appetite will surely be appeased when you dance to the Fenton Bros. Orchestra at the Rex Ballroom, on Friday, April 16th.

Tickets for the Annual Show and Ball are $1.00 and $1.50 per person and can be secured from L. Lester Greene, '39, Joseph Drazewitz, '39, Gordon Lear, '40.

We wonder why certain fixed ideas don't get wise and wear clothes that will not show the dust. It's much less embar- rassing.

The venture of a nickelodeon at Textile has proved most enjoyable to all. May we thank you for your cooperation and your willingness to comply with the no-smoking rule.

As for jitterbugs—we person- ally like the Ric-a-Cassarv com- position. A smooth pair of jiter- bugs has never been seen.

May we wish the Textile Players the utmost success in their coming show, "The Haunted House."

Not to be outdone by the boys, the co-eds are planning a celebration on Upstream Day. No de- finite plans have been accepted as yet but there are some very in- teresting suggestions in the air. More about this later?

Delta Kappa Phi News

Murphy's Musings on Delta's Doings:

The annual convention of the fraternity will be held in Lowell this year on May 3 and 4. From word received from the Supreme Council, we may expect a score of members from Alpha Chapter at Philadelphia and an equal num- ber from Delta Chapter of New Bedford. A dinner-dance on May 6 at the Rex Ballroom will be one of the outstanding features of the con- vention. It is hoped that each member will make a conscientious effort to attend as there is to be an attractive registration for all new members.

And by then, John Murphy will undoubtedly have summoned just enough courage to ask the pul- chritudinous pattern of perfection who rides on the early morning bus to attend the dinner-dance at the Rex with him.

Jimmy Wall will no doubt be there like "Casab at the bat."

Bill Nelson and Abe Grondin, with the help of their friend Hume, will have a bevy of friends to greet their brothers from Alpha and Delta Chapters.

Duligian and his pal "Mike" will be on hand to liven things up.

Hamer, Allard, and Fortier will be present with the best that Duesit has to offer.

It is hoped that each member will make a special effort to con- tact the alumni and remind them to present.

Omicron Pi News

In the all important bowling match the faculty Omicron Pi was dubbed into going some- what off-the-way, second and all this where some of the faculty had been secretly practicing and therefore went down to defeat. It was reported by one of our bowlers who by the way is a con- nosieur of alleys that he might just as well have tried to bowl on a pebbly beach.

With the nice spring weather really coming around the golf shows will be hanging the old pill right down the middle of the fairways or will they? For one of you, who try so hard. There seems to be quite a dispute as to just what paws of dubs will be taking the Fraternity Champion- ship this year. Anyway, Wilkins and Little look good hanging that wad of cotton around.

If may be out of place in this column but I wish to take my hat off to the person who is responsible for having that palm with the hand in it for cigarette butts put in the hall as you enter the Wood-ward Department. Much has been said of doing things through the College but to my knowledge this is the first thing that has been done for cigarette butt dis-posal.

S. O. P. News

We just found out that two of our alumni are going to be tied nev- erthelasm. "Steelers" Scottwood and Ray Crown, both of the Class of '35, are to be married early in June. Congratulations to both of you.

The Refuge Party held on April 15 was a grand and glorious success. Let us have more like it.

Albunosa Leo Gliklen dropped in on us the other day. Glad to see you, Leo.

We welcome Brother Laddie Schiffer back to the house and hope we will be completely well as soon as possible.

Philanders to "Speck" Fin- chard for his hard work on the dance committee.

Plans are already being made for our annual stag dinner.

Do not forget Upstream Day, May 10th.

Brown Nine
Turns Back
Textile, 7-0

The Lowell Textile baseball team opened its 1930 season Saturday afternoon by dropping a 10-3 decision to Brown University, on the Providence field.

Arthur Prunty, Textile's opening batter, pitched superb ball during his stay on the hill but was accorded no support by his teammates and this was the fact that the Textile boys had but one batting practice drill proved to be his downfall.

Prunty allowed the Brown batters just five batters in six innings while Roy Johnson, his successor, was nicked for one in two innings. Walter Janesey worked on the mound for the Brunns and held Textile to a single hit, the collected by Ernest Buckley in the fourth inning with two out. Harris and Reedford each collected two hits to lead the hitting attack of the Brown outfit while Platt starved in the field. Hackett and Swiatek starred on the defense for the Textile team, the latter turning in two spectacular catches to rob Brown players of extra base hits.
