VARSITY CLUB MEETS

Following a noon meeting on January 5th, a meeting of the "VT Club" in the offices of the Lowell Textile Journal, President McGowen was in charge and all members were urged to pay their dues within two weeks in order that hats and shamrocks might be ordered for examinations.

Members of the different fraternity volunteers to assist Basketball Manager Ryan in canvassing visiting teams.

McGowen was taken up concerning the objects of the club and of the Junior Basketball Association. The VT Club, in fact, became one of the strongest groups in the city.

There were fourteen members present

OVER HALF OF TEXTILE STUDENTS EARNING PART TIME WAY THROUGH SCHOOL

The total enrollment at Textile was a little above 4,000, although of which about 1,000 were carrying their four year work and 3,500 the two year work.

Mr. Chelsey’s absence will be sorely felt at Textile next year. Taking up the reins here with great expectations, for the first time in his four years of coaching, he moulded a team, with which after the first game, performed like a true man of the mill.

Hereinafter, the city of Lowell will enjoy a series of games of Pickleball, intended as a welcome home to the city.

BASKETBALL TEAM NOTES

Team Has Won Two and Lost Four

To date the Textile Basketball team has shown two of their six games against the visitors from local and Textile. This may be due to the fact that they had to be content with the short end of a 32-23 game.

After their straight defeat, Textile came from Mass. Normal Art by a score of 21-22 to win a fast 122-37. With the big hot for the locals, they took a double decision. Kennedy’s three men have been very high in the game Textile held the lead and led all but one of the boys.

On Saturday afternoon, they hit the road for a few weeks. In the last period, Textile started a rally, with no chance of a sure start, that swept the Boston boys of their feet and allowed Textile to go on for a win.

On last Saturday Textile took their first trip of the year to a foreign country.

In response to the demands of theot, the little red and black cups have disappeared, and the freshmen are now recognized as a part of Lowell Textile School.

From all outward appearances you look the part—but are you? Your potential hundred percent attendance at the class meetings helps to boost the spirit of the school and establish a good reputation in the city. But after one has attended what sort of differences do the men notice between the men of the courses who have not attended and those who have? Do you want to be the sort of the men who are recognized in the school? If so, do an honest job, for if you haven’t always done it, it may help to improve your class standing and spirit in school. In social functions but also in sports, T. S. is the mother of all such qualities to be looked for.

Such attendance at future meetings is expected.

You are aware that you are about to become members of one of the fraternity houses at college. The class will have a strong tendency to split into cliques. Classes before you always have, you are likely to follow in their footsteps. Fraternity feeling will enter the elective and various school activities, and there will be a definite acting in some between the men of each class. The reason for this is that you want to follow into between you and your fraternity? Do you want to be the sort of the men who are recognized in the school? If so, do an honest job, for if you haven’t always done it, it may help to improve your class standing and spirit in school. In social functions but also in sports, T. What We Have Already Learned At Textile

The Commonwealth is not a hotel. Lawrence is not an attractive city as Lowell.

Let your kid sitter paint designs for you, but be sure that she fills in the right squares. That proposition is easy, since you get your paint ordered from your house dealer.

That student nurse wears knickers and needs a shave.

Get a good "line" on the problems. The girls in Kresge's and Newberry's have to play all the latest dance hits to you.

Freshman Troubles

Nothing after we've had our supper. Dawn of the show, there's lots of work to do tonight. But why not let it go.

An English theme is due tomorrow, little do we know.

"Jiminy!" How is sure to thank you. How about it, Bo?

Further mechanical problems started, To hard to be done right now. Why not do them in the morning. When someone'll show you how.

Designs are due by mid-year, No need to think of them. Yet, them out to the week end. Maybe you will find time then.

Don't worry about Mathematics, Even though it may be long. It is very easy to cope. And copying is not wrong.

Thus the way the Problem Class. Would like to see things done. But when they think of their duties, Is that the week in think of fun. He don't put till tomorrow. What can today be done.

The Pink Issue is Next!

For some years it has been the custom of the Textile School Paper to print an annual "Pink" Issue. Last year, due to lack of cooperation on the part of the student body, the Pink Issue was not published.

Our Pink Sheet is an entirely humorous publication, containing wit, humor, jokes and froth in copious quantities. The main line of attack is against the Pros, who, for once during the year, suffer unmutilated ridicule at the hands of the students and cannot do a thing in their own defense. Everything is taken in the spirit with which the articles are written, however, and naturally no one is offended. That would defeat the object of the issue.

The Pink Issue, if given proper aid by the students, can be the most popular issue of the year. It is urged by the Textile Staff that every student contribute some article or joke, large or small, so that a successful Pink Issue may be produced two weeks hence.

And remember! This is the School Paper and not the paper of one or a few individuals. Treat it as such and loosen up with your views on the humorous side of school life.

Mid-Year Examinations Over

The dread of term examinations has passed for the first semester of the college year. For some everything looks rosy,—until the marks come out; for others, circumstances will be roty at least for the rest of the year. We are all of the opinion that the latter class is the better one in which to be included. However, less brilliance on the part of some leaves copious work and striving to attain the ultimate goal of success; this incentive would be without value if we were all of superior minds.

The second term promises plenty of outside activities to spice the humdrum of college work. What with basketball games, dances, the annual show, "Textile Night," baseball games, and fraternity house parties, college will not be so dull after all. All of these diversions are conducive to better work no matter how we look at them, for what kind of an institution would it be without them?
1926 SPORT REVIEW

Year Marked by Greatest Upset of Champions in Sport History

Generally speaking, the year 1926 was a bad one for champions and, consequently, a good one for the promoters and fans. Great crowds followed all the events of the year, the greatest test being Mr. Tex Rickard’s at the Sesquicentennial Stadium in honor of Missouri Jack Har- rison Denny and Eugene Joseph Tully who emerged in the battle of the century.

Next in line was the Army-Navy struggle for an edge shaped ball at the Miller’s Field Stadum, Chicago. Other games and sports drew large crowds, but the two mentioned overshadowed all.

Speaking of champions, there were few who repeated. Denny, J. J., Jones, Deacon and the Washington Baseball Team, together with a host of others, were all fallen from their high pedestals.

The resisters were few and far between. Alabama, Southern Conference Champion, still remained at the top of the heap. Hagan and “Babe” Ruth reigned as they did in previous years, as did Deacon and his assistant profession, the famous professional Golf Champion and the latter an infallible at the Bowl or Manufacturer of Four-Bowl-Rings “Bobby” Jones, won the amateur championship, showed himself the class of two continents by winning both the American and British Open Championships.

Miss Helen Wilson destroyed all as leads of the country was cased by a hight of hard task force on the former Champion’s part. She was against with a special about at a time when she was at its best. This necessitated her withdrawal from the championship contests. However, in justice to Mrs. Hoxie Maloney, it must be said that she played the best game of her life in drawing all opponents to gain the championship.

Both the men’s championships, indoor and outdoor, had a rather French tinge. J. Hesse Lacoste carried off both honors.

FOOTBALL

Lafayette, Brown, and Navy were the only teams in the East to go through the season undefeated. Lafayette was the only one of the three to go through the season undefended and untied. Brown played a total of three games in the season and the Navy played a total of four games with the Army in their final game of the season. The Navy, however, was rated as the Eastern Champions by a majority of the experts as they played the hardest schedule. N. Y. U. was also undefeated in the East.

The biggest upset of the year was the defeat of Rice’s Rockers Notre Dame team by Carnegie Tech. Notre Dame was unranked in every department of the game.

The work of McGraw of Brown drew much favorable comment from the critics and officials. Captain Jones of the Army and Laneview Junior of the Navy also came in for their share of praise.

The year of 1926 also brought forth a new form of football which was called Professional Football. Although professional football did not score an overwhelming success, nevertheless some of the teams came out on the right side of the ledger and the teams played good clean football. The one reason for the failure of professional football is said to be the lack of color that is found in a college game.

BASKETBALL

For the first time since 1912 a Columbia Basketball Team was constituted possession of first place in the Eastern Inter-Collage Basketball League. The Lions won 5 games and lost 1. The game they lost was to Pennsylvania. Dartmouth finished second, and Princeton, Penn and Cornell finished in a tie for third place. Coached by Don Meyer and Paul Morray the Columbia team rose to the top by virtue of a stringing first team and a few cases of extraordinary fortune.

Carl Lack of Pennsylvania was the high scorer in the league with 94 points to his credit.

In the Western Conference, four teams were tied for first honor, each winning 9 and losing 4 games. Indiana, Michigan, Purdue, and Iowa were the teams sharing the championship. In the Missouri Conference Kansas was the winner.

The basketball team of St. Joseph’s Missouri was the winner of the A. A. U. Cup, defeating Kansas City A. A. Cemple, Kansas was third.

TENNIS

The high water mark for golf was set during the year which saw the British Open played for the first time in the world. The winner of the British Open was the American winner. “Bobby” Jones was the first to get started, winning the American and British opens within the space of two weeks.

The American Walker Cup team again retained the trophy of international supremacy by decisively beating the British at Muirfield.

The British Open Cup also returned to American soil, this time in the hands of Jesse Draper. Seventeen victors of the greatest of the history of golf was it achieved on the course of Muirfield. All during the championship he was seriously ill, but struggled on to victory. This victory, however, has done it’s health that it is doubtful when he will be able to return to tournament play.

Although Japan swept the fields before him in the open, he was defeated by George von Ehren. who had already beaten the two previous contests in the Amateur Open Championship.

Walter Hagen retained his only title, as he again won the P. G. A. by sealing through one of the best fields ever entered in the event.

Mr. Henry Streeton of Philadelphia, after a week of ups and downs, emerged as the American national champion. The only clout upon the horizon of America this past year was the overwhelming defeat of the American Professional Team by the British Pros.

SPEAKING OF FINE TOBACCOS

"Have a Camel!"

A NICETY of blending, a friendly cordiality of flavor, an inherent goodness that thrills from the first puff to the last — that's Camel. The warmth of golden sunlight on autumn fields gleams in their smoker. Camels are an expression of all that is the finest.

Camel quality and Camel excellence are recognized wherever smokers gather. The best of Turks and Domestic tobaccos are blended in this famous cigarette. For this reason Camel has consistent goodness. For this reason Camel never tastes the same, no matter how similarly you smoke them; never leave a cigarette after-taste. And wherever experienced smokers gather, wherever the conversation turns to tobacco — to the world's best — everyone is sure to say: "Speaking of fine tobaccos . . . Have a Camel!"

Phi Psi Notes

Mid-years are once more upon us, and as a result, the social banquet controls are here. To date, the banquets are even, but the team of "Wishies" (black and "Art" Hillman is leading by a small margin, closely followed by "Jack" Stewart and "Algie" Morgan. "Pork" Maguire should be a leading candidate for our pitcher. While trying to hit the upper story window he neatly cleaned out one pane in the card room.

The house "quartet" composed of "Fib" Burke, "Jabber" Black,"Les" Logan, "Jack" Stewart, and "Algie" Morgan renders concerts nightly. Their favorite number, and the only piece that they know, is "John Brown's Baby."

Omicron Pi Notes

New that the mid-years are over, the boys are resting in their lairs (1), and all waiting for the president's new list.

S. Wallace Blackwell has announced that he is sharing the secret of slicing a special cake in the lab, for beginners.

V. Yezbyan was up over the weekend for a discussion of technical problems with the students in the house. There was a very little discussion.

Bud Adams has arranged a still-untitled, "Alcochette" class in the social Chemistry from four o'clock to five, being one of the special features.

A camera club is being formed at the house, and organized largely by those who formerly composed the Party Club, which fell through when the treasurer bought the record "Dixie" for 50 cents. The appeal of the club has convinced the members that there were already three others of that title which had ousted their welcome in the House.

If you are in the habit of breaking furniture at home, then the Mechanics room ought to hold a large interest for you. Besides employing yourself while getting rid of this worthless furniture, you are exercising yourself in the meantime.

If you follow some of this advice in a short time, the school ought to resemble "Home Sweet Home.

Joe Pollard: "I'm going to have to resign my position as assistant instructor."

Miss Enslow: "Why?"

Joe: "Oh, I read in the paper of a plot hatched in New York to assassinate all prominent men of America!"

(Plotting being arrested)—Out office. I'm a college man! (Cop)—I'm sorry but ignorance is no excuse.

First Freshman: I'm not fit to be in my intelligence test.

Second Freshman: That makes you a blunt fool.

Professor: "Would you please run up that window slats!" Student: What do you think I am a squire?"

EXPENDED pipe-smokers from Cape Lisburne to Cape Sable (get out your map of North America!) recommend P. A. to you as the finest tobacco that ever lined the bowl of a pipe. You'll check in with their recommendation.

Why, the instant you swing back the hinged lid on the tidy red tin, your olfactory nerve registers a fragrance like that of a pine-grove on a damp morning. And when you tuck a load of this wonderful tobacco into your pipe—say, Mister!

Cool as Cape Lisburne, mentioned above. Sweet as the plaudits of a first-night audience. Mild as morning in Cape Sable. (That's working-in the old geography) Mild, yet with a full tobacco body that completely satisfies your smoke-taste. Buy some Prince Albert today and make the test!
