Night School Enrollment Shows Peak Year

Dr. Scottgood Works On New Scientific Project

LIT—Oct. 5—Dr. Albert Scottgood, of the Chemistry Department is now in the process of writing a book to be published by the American Chemical Society. Entitled "Stimulated Electron Emission" this book will probably appear next year and should be of great aid to those students taking the university course in the subject. Another section of the book is now being drafted by Dr. Scottgood which will be used in the course at Lowell.

The book is designed primarily to give information on electronic structures, a topic which is extremely limited in most elementary texts.

Another contribution by Dr. Scott good is a type of silica dye made for the first time last Spring. This dye was synthesized by coupling dimethyl anthraquinone and phthalic anhydride to give a mixture which at the present time, although under the direction of Dr. Scottgood, are investigating its properties to determine its advantages and disadvantages. It is hoped that many of our textile fibers will have an affinity for this dye.

The seniors involved in this project also include Bob Greenberg, Joe Flannery, and Nick Kelly.

College Students Take Draft In Stride

College students are meeting the draft with good humor. There seems to be a trend to project even less enthusiasm, although there may be four thousand students who will leave campus by Cornell university. The poll compares the draft-averse attitude with the willingness to pay adult. He meets his obligation, but he doesn't necessarily use it.

Nearly percent of the students say they are ready to serve if drafted, but only a quarter would like to be a part of the situation. The main reason is that they expected to get in as much fun as possible.

The report shows that although the government is doing a good job of recruiting, there is little doubt that recruitment is going to be a problem.

Student Council Holds First Meeting Of Year

The first Student Council meeting of the current academic year was held on October 1. At this meeting, a new executive committee was elected, and several motions and resolutions were adopted. Some of the issues discussed included the need for more social and recreational activities, and the recommendation that a new campus be constructed.

WITL Recruitment To Be Excellent In School Dorms

WITL is the news and program service of Lowell Textile Institute. WITL, also known as the Rubber Duck, is one of the most exciting and entertaining services in the country. The station operates on a low budget and is based on a small group of representatives. It is estimated that the station will be able to support itself by raising funds and soliciting the support of his friends. It is hoped that the station will be able to support a variety of groups and organizations.

October 3—One of the two recent student additions to the Air Force ROTC at Lowell Textile Institute is Sergeant Frank McCoy. He is an instructor and administrative chief clerk. After finishing high school, Sergeant McCoy enlisted in the United States Air Force and completed basic training at Laughlin Air Force Base in Texas. He has served in the Air Force for several years and was transferred to the Air Force School in Texas. McCoy has also served in the Air Force in various capacities, including as a communications specialist and as a base security officer.

The services which the station operates are the same as the program for music and study. The station will operate under the direction of the Student Council, which is the governing authority of the station. The Student Council will have the authority to make decisions regarding the station's operations and programming.

The Student Council has adopted the following rules as a guide for the station's operations:

1. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the goals and objectives of the school and the Student Council.
2. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the policies and procedures of the school and the Student Council.
3. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the budget and resources available to the station.
4. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the commitments and obligations of the station's personnel.

In order to achieve these goals and objectives, the Student Council has adopted the following rules:

1. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the goals and objectives of the school and the Student Council.
2. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the policies and procedures of the school and the Student Council.
3. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the budget and resources available to the station.
4. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the commitments and obligations of the station's personnel.

The Student Council has also established the following procedures:

1. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the goals and objectives of the school and the Student Council.
2. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the policies and procedures of the school and the Student Council.
3. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the budget and resources available to the station.
4. The station will be operated in a manner that is consistent with the commitments and obligations of the station's personnel.

THE TEXT

Thursday, October 9, 1952

By Bob Mulcahy

You have every wondered happens to that portion of your old sweaters that got lost to the Athletic Association when you dropped them off this year? This $5.00 from each donor goes to support the Athletic Association. This year 50% of the student body sent in their old sweaters. This is a good sign of the support the students give to the Athletic Association. This is a good start for the situation this year.

If our athletic director was not forced to cut the $3,000.00 budget in just two years, the situation could be improved greatly for the benefit of every student attending us. We can only assume that a student speaking, this irrelevance will no doubt be considered as the common talk of the whole team; so if he doesn’t like it, he can move on. For me, I am not the only one who shares these views or I wouldn’t be sounding this propaganda, however, that when game rolls around this year for the various sports the same carryall of cars will be filled with our student body, so if you are one of our players on a two or three hour drive to the field of encounter, you’ll have to enjoy it a little more naturally. (It booms them up and breaks the tension). The same managers will hustle down to the local sports store for towels and supplies, and their bags of hand-aids and the players will get their game clothes, sporting shoes, or enough or enough to buy milk and cookies anyway. This the players, coaches, and managers will drive another two or three hours back in the middle of the night after representing L. T. in an important competition. This is just another example of the Prep’s athletic program and the great athletic program of our campus community. I hope that you enjoy watching the team and take pride in the old and new athletic uniforms and support the team.

It seems appropriate to start this column where I left off last week. The further developments of the preliminary plans for "The Athletic проблем" are the result of the suggestions made by Bob Cohen, the RAMBLER and the Athletic Director suggested by Mr. Mulcahy, preliminary reformation of the plans has been taken. All student athletic areas have been allocated and shall be used appropriately. The final plans are to be made by this committee for eliminating mud, to encircle contract flowers to clear the snow in the immediate area, and to secure the utmost protection for student cars at all times.

When the space is opened the lights shall be left on all night, and the cars parked in this area shall be left in the students' max. rounds. Of course, the school cannot and should not be held responsible for any property in these cars.

One of the things which has become increasingly annoying to students is vandalism. Student activities are the constant reduction in the library hours. In addition, vandalism has caused the damage to be fixed over four hours between Friday and Monday. This, mind you, is not the same as students’ hours and should be used by the students’ library. In most other colleges the librarians are available Friday night and all day Saturday and Sunday. I realize that the library is understaffed and that the situation is the result of our own doing. There is an increased allocation from the student body. This may be increased. This could allow the students and faculty to benefit from the many facilities available in the library. I think that the student activities should be held open all times so as to allow for conferences and the mailboxes. This is not to say that the students are capable of being locked and abandoned.

I have noticed recently that there has been an increase in the amount of vandalism in the buildings. In many cases outsiders have been responsible for some of it. It is rather obvious that the amount of vandalism has been caused by the vandal-proof boxes. This will allow all dorm residents that such a bond will be put in place to save the vandal-proof boxes.

The scene is a college party. The room is filled with laughter, music, and spoil that has been pulled from a group of mixed couples. You can imagine yourself as one of these carefree students. Each couple is in their own world spinning and still, "Smiling, Built, Bulk, Boy, Wee, Lovely," "Lavender, My Lavender, Brown, Brown." and many others are heard by each member of his local school. For you can turn around to see what do they sing at college parties? You can only hope that some of them actually do sing, the noise hurts down deep and I don’t like it myself. "Why don’t you have a song to yourself? And I ask you, the students of college, why don’t you have a song? Why can’t we close every conversation, athletic event, or social gathering. Good song, a good song has never been written that appealed to the student body. Now is the time to act, not wait.

The TEXT in conjunction with this idea is sponsoring a School Song Contest. There will be a number of prizes for the winning songs. And the winning songs of the TEXT will carry the names of the students and the judges. This is your chance to participate in the contest but do not be afraid. It is worth while to the student body at Textile.

LTI Amazons Ready To Open Hoop Season

After the final roll of the gimnastics, a new season is being developed. Don't look now, but Ten- tor has given birth to a more polished ball team. With the increased enthusiasm and interest such a team has been feasible. The team is being sponsored by the LTI club and is being coached by Donny Ingles. The girls have already had their first practice session, and although both it and a hot early to Judge. Coach Rupert did not comment. The schedule is not official yet, but it seems likely that there will be a game over the weekend of the military ball, and several other games are being scheduled. The girls are in fine physical condition, and with the interest and enthusiasm they have shown, there will definitely be a varsity basketball team this season.

Fine defensive play was exhibited during the early part of the first period of play by Steinsapir and Guimares. They are about to recover the last deep in Durfee territory. Textile won 4-1, on a score made by Steinsapir and Rover, there will definitely be a varsity basketball team this season.

Late Sports Bulletin

Oct. 1.—T.-T. The Lowell Textile soccer team added another victory to their credit late this afternoon by thoroughly blanking Clark University of Worcester by 6-0. This was the second game of the season for the Textile boys. It also marked the first defeat by the L. T. T. eleven. The star of the game, with four goals to his credit was Ed Gostanian, fast moving forward in the Textile line. He now leads the team for goals scored, his total being six. The L-T-T. line was credited to the fine play of Sal Gil-
