Studer, N.Y. Cotton Exchange Opened To Students

The New York Stock Exchange has extended an invitation to any college student to visit the Exchange. Interested students have been contacted at the University of Rochester, New York; Syracuse University, and the College of the City of New York. It is anticipated that many students will accept the invitation.

Embroidered Fabrics On Display Today

A very interesting feature and display of embroidered fabrics was presented by John Reily, who is now connected with the firm of W. H. S. Reily of New York City and is the manager of the department store. The display was held in the presence of some of the leading business men, who were present to see the results of the work of some of the leading designers in the field. The display included a wide variety of embroidered fabrics, including some of the most beautiful and intricate designs ever seen.

Popular College Band Engaged

The Tex show this year is planned to present Hal Reeves and his orchestra on the stage of the student union on Thursday, March 22nd. The program will include a variety of musical numbers, including some of the most popular hits of the season. The band will be in residence for the entire month of March, and will perform at least three concerts per week. The concerts will be held in the student union, and will be open to all students.

Kids in the Family

The children of the Reeves family were present at the show, and were seen enjoying themselves to the fullest. They were seen dancing on the stage, and were seen enjoying the music of the orchestra. The children were seen to be the life of the party, and were seen to be the most popular of the audience.

Student Council Minutes on Page Two

The student council of the University of Texas has issued its minutes for the meeting held on March 15th. The minutes include a report of the activities of the council, including the election of new officers, the appointment of new members to the council, and the discussion of various issues of concern to the students.

Unlike the music we were listening to in the living room, the low rumble of the vacuum cleaner was expected, not pleasant. The sound was a nuisance, but whenever I retired the same noise was heard. I closed my eyes and tried to drown out the noise with my thoughts, but I couldn't. My mind kept wandering back to the sound of the vacuum cleaner.

Textile Student Makes Discovery
Berta, I have found it! Twelve hundred, but I won't tell you what it is. You may ask well, "What is it?" but I can't tell you. I am constructing—well, I mean constructing at the beginning.

Just when I was about to resign myself to the inevitable, I stumbled upon a dingy old box tucked away in a corner of the attic. The old box was full of buttons and other sewing supplies. I picked up a button and began to examine it. The button was made of a rare and exotic material that I had never seen before. I decided to use the button to create a unique piece of jewelry.

They're back! They're back! They're back! They're back! The annual Spring Jamboree is in full swing!

Miss Valynce, who is a junior in her final year of college, was named the new Miss College of the Year.

We all know that the Spring Jamboree is one of the most anticipated events of the year.

Congratulations here are in order to Don Lepka for scoring the helmet landmark against the University of Minnesota for his goal on the twelfth minute of play. The young, smartly informed, and well-dressed forward was evidence of his marked progress since he arrived on the winter season.

In the first period, the Red Aces used the bag of speed, tricks, and sprints to try to outdistance the Civil War against the University of Minnesota. But the Twin City University men would not allow the Harvard men the slightest chance of scoring.

The Red lineup was as follows: Keefe, forward; lamp; Anderson, right wing; Shoebridge, left wing; Durnas, goalie; Lepka, center. The Red Aces were the best of the game in the first period, but the Minnesotans were the best in the second period.

The Harvard Junior Hockey Club was defeated by the University of Minnesota, 7-1, at the Boston Arena, Friday, March 12th.
