The IFC has announced plans to rush starts in two weeks.

On or about Oct. 30, the termination of freshman orientation, the fraternity rushing period will begin.

The Interfraternity Council, representing the four fraternities, and governor basic fraternity policy, is now planning the rushing period, which involves university members and all freshmen.

The Council has also announced the date for the third annual fraternity induction sales and pledge dinners.

As dictated by the IFC, each fraternity may hold three stag parties and two date parties for the purpose of rushing. In addition to these affairs, personal interviews for prospective brothers may be arranged by the fraternities. The student's interest in fraternity must not be on rushing period ends.

The date for induction sales, on Friday, October 30, at 7:30 p.m. The event will be held in the Alumni Memorial Library.

To the Freshman: A Word to the Wise

Your decision to enter LTJ and pursue a technical education is one of excitement. The effect of this choice will follow you for many years during your attempt to achieve financial and social security.

The new student must realize that a technical curriculum is demanding of both time and resources. Never before has a student been so much required of the student. This combination, plus the environmental factor, are the obstacles to be effectively overcome by the new Tech student.

During the period of admission to the academic registration period, it would be the student's first attempt to STUDY LTJ—with regard to student activities and fraternity life. It is universally understood that an education, whether given the student individually, has a limited value.

The student is expected, up to the threshold of a critical period of his life. He should determine exactly what his objectives are by the application of logic and reason. He must come to college to study a field of future endeavor. Perhaps he wishes to earn the feeling of accomplishment, establish a way of life, and thereby improve himself while pursuing a vocational course.

The decision is yours, but it should not be made without consultation and investigation.

The decision is yours, but you should adopt the latter approach to college to begin with the act as zero. His limitations must be revealed to the help of the student organizations and fraternities in which he is interested.

Is A Fussblle?

It seems odd that the first popular Social event of the semester should be the Inter-Fraternity Council Weekend. The nature of the IFC Weekend is such that only fraternity-sponsored events are open to freshmen and non-fraternity members are not invited. The Social is the IFC's major social event of the year.

The purpose of the IFC function prior to the return of bids by contestants equals beyond reasoning.

The Electoral Board of the IFC feels that a discussion and referendum be held in this manner. We propose that the students are asked to vote on decisions of LTJ social events so that the All-Tech Weekend will be held in the future at the termination of the Freshman Orientation Period.

The DIFFERENCE

The attendance of the Tech student was expected at the Inter-Fraternity Council, He was expected to be dressed appropriately. Unfortunately he was not. An occasion of such importance called for the Tech student to be dressed appropriately.

The college student is expected to behave and dress in a manner in keeping with adult maturity. It is obvious that some students here at LTJ have yet to realize this. The jitters and behavior of these individuals are undeniably scar their pre-college days which should be remedied.

Tech students - next time we meet in Cameron Hall for any sort of formal gathering, let's be dressed appropriately, shall we?
OPEN LETTER TO FRESHMEN

Dear Freshmen:

As you have read on page 1 of this issue of the TEXT, the Fraternity rush season is due to begin shortly after the close of the freshman orientation period. The late-Fraternity Council realizes that many of you do not yet fully understand the role a fraternity plays in your college experience. As a representative of this organization, I am writing this letter in the hope of giving some answers to some questions which may be on your minds.

Actually, these questions probably boil down to this one question: What is a Fraternity anyway?

This may be best answered by an article I found in a manual of one of the Fraternities on this campus.

The answer may be the means of securing a full friend, and a manhood, and the right to be loved by his friends.

The Greek letter fraternity is the outgrowth of man’s natural desire to associate himself with men of similar ideas and ideals. His desire was evident when we watch the boy with his playmates and the grown man with his social and business club.

The Greek letter fraternity, in its highest expression, is not merely a social body, but a social institution. It is an order, at once both idealistic and practical. It is a group of men each of whom contributes to the group and each other, all deriving mutual benefits from their associations. It application requires ceaseless effort on the part of the college men to enrich their way of life, and develop a finer sense of values.

Its purposes are manifold. It assists the freshman in establishing himself to a new life on campus, encourages scholarship, and furnishes not only living quarters, but a home away from home. It develops one’s personal character, and is meant to unselfish. It helps to crystallize habitats, broadens outside interests and acquaintances, and is a means of establishing one and preparing the college graduate for his future as an American.

I hope that this letter has given you some insight into fraternity life and that you will keep some of the points mentioned in mind when you visit the various houses.

In view of the fact that this year’s freshman class is extremely large, it will be difficult for the freshmen to get to know all those who wish to join one of the many organizations. I suggest that everyone do his utmost to find out about the houses and make himself known to the fraternity of his choice.

Sincerely yours,
Edward Novick

"Why Text"

Education is not merely confined to classroom work. As Shakespeare said, "Find tools in trees, books, and life. They are all education, and good in ever."

Extra-curricular activity is of great importance in the growth of a human mind at college. In a growing, yet small college such as ours, there are many opportunities for a student to develop his mind. In other colleges there are many societies and organizations which help to remove the monotony of the everyday world. And the "Text" offers one of the best opportunities for helping to reduce the monotony, and at the same time provide a lot of education.

Among the activities, there are many mistakes which are hidden from the young men who are not realized until too late. These mistakes cannot be corrected in the future, but only by the mistakes done by the individual can some of these mistakes be avoided.

Research is a part of a newspaper. It leads to many an intriguing experience which can be translated through dark corners. It helps to create more general

A LOOK

AT THE COACHES

Article 1 in the series: The Dave Money Story

Dave Money holds the distinction of coaching three colleges, football, basketball, and lacrosse. He is known to everyone here at the University by the name that Coach Bob Hickey Mooney had at Plattsburgh and Boston College. In 1920, in Malden, Massachusetts, where he attended the local high school, he became acquainted with Dartmouth College and later at New York University.

At Dartmouth, he participated in varsity football for three years, being an All-American halfback one year. He also played three years of varsity lacrosse as a captain. A member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity, Dave belonged to the Turf, junior society, Sphinx, senior society, and was chosen man of Philoptoeus, senior governing board.

In 1926 he married Mildred M. Marshall, also of Malden, and the couple have two children, David and Frances. He also is active in the local community, being a member of the Malden Little Theatre and the Malden Boys Club. He is a Democrat, and is chairman of the Malden Democratic Committee.

One of the most outstanding achievements of Coach Money's career was his ability to make a selection in the incidents, thrilling, humorous, and otherwise, of college sports. His coaching ability, however, is the one that has captured the attention of everyone. His team is one of the greatest of its kind in the country, and has shown remarkable consistency in its play. The team is a mixture of experienced and young players, and the coaching is done in the most professional manner.

Another incident I recall was the first time I joined the Philadelphia Athletic, a member of the U.S. Amateur Association. It was a great honor to be able to participate in such a prestigious event, and I am very grateful to Coach Money for the opportunity. Our team had a great deal of success, and I believe we are the best in the country.

LACROSSE TEAM STARTS EARLY

Lew Miller, Captain of the Lacrosse at a Recent Team Practice.

Lew Miller is a caynote student but because of the lack of time he has to spend on his studies, he has taken to playing lacrosse. He is a very good player and has been practicing with great dedication. His objective is to improve his skills in the sport. This will also help the team to compete at the highest level.

The team squad showed some promise and the team has a good mix of experienced and young players. As the season approaches, the team will continue to work hard and improve their skills.

Ronald Hook and Bert Grinnell are two of the stars of the team. Ronald Hook is a strong midfielder and Bert Grinnell is a fast attacker. They have been working very hard to improve their skills and lead the team to victory.

On paper, the team looks very strong, but in practice, it is not always the case. The team will continue to work hard and improve their skills in order to be successful in the season.
