Important Step In Loom Development

Baker 3 Shuttle Mix Automatic Loom.

This has recently been installed in the Weave Room of a Tellicherry & Knowles Loom that has been elected over so that it may be used as an automatic loom.

This loom has been selected which will filling poes to the best possible advantage by giving a pick, from each of the three shuttle bobbins in succession.

The advantages of a loom of this character can readily be appreciated by manufacturers. A slight variation in color or count will be only caused by weaving, cause filling bobbins can be changed by turning bobbins with the "Huber 3 Shuttle Mix Attachments" a superior fabric can be produced and can be made by a single house.

Several installations are now being made in mills throughout the New England states.

Sophomore Engineers In Boston

Engineer Students Are Guess of T. J. Lodge Company of Boston.

TRIP WELL ENJOYED

On Wednesday, January 15th, the sophomore engineering students were the guests of T. J. Lodge, Compay of Boston. This firm does text in rags and shoddy. Our host, Mr. Lodge, escorted the group, and we were enabled to get first-hand information about this most important business.

We were first taken through the Lodge Textile plant where the rags were sorted, clipped and baled either for sale as raw material, or for sale in the cut bale form, for the manufacture of paper. This was very interesting, the task of shoddy. All of these various types of rags in the plant were sorted, and the mill contained possible breeds and grades of shoddy.

The shoddy plant in Hoboken was more interesting plant and operated by the company a chance to see the actual operations as were covered in the shoddy manufacturing lectures. The shoddy operations was explained by Lodge and his superintendent, Mr. Williams, who proved most capable assistant. After the tour through the plant we returned to the office where a drawing of the plant and office was given by Mr. Lodge and the group were thanked for their interest in the plant of operations of such an enterprise.

Lowell Textile Rifle Club Loses Its First Match

On Friday evening, January 12th, the Lowell Textile Institute Rifle Club lost its first match against both Boston and Massachusetts Institute of Technology in a triangular match shot on the range of Northeast in Lawrence. The Lowell Textile were:

Lowell Textile, 552
Northeast, 577
Mass. Inst. Tech., 588

The Lowell team was composed of Robert H. Walter, Fuller, Moody, and Hodgeman.

In spite of the defeat, the showing of the Lowell team was most satisfactory. Its score was good, its score being better than any made last year and its opponents being of the same caliber. The E. T. P. of the Eastern champion and Northeast in being spoken of as a contender for the championship.

Hobby had been treated out of dinner and was being dictated in apology. "I am sure to eat your pie with a fork," Mr. Salyer reminded him.

"You aren't an old pie around the house, I could practice with him," quipped Bobby.

The next home game of the Lowell Textile basketball team will be played on Friday evening, February 16, at the local gym, with the much-heralded Crimson Independents providing the opposition. Coach Martin is not contemplating any drastic change in his lineup for this contest, and believes that his team will come through victorious.
The Value of a Good Beginning

the other day I was talking to a certain man in regard to writing. The man said to me: "The only trouble he has when he starts in to write an article was that he never knew how to begin. It used to start him that it was never ending. I immediately told him that the key was the art of writing. In fact, the key of any undertaking. The ability to begin a thing to start it, must be acquired for therein lies the secret of any success. Anyone can go on after a thing is started but everyone cannot make a start when the occasion presents itself."

Take a machine for instance. It is mighty hard getting up the power and energy to start the wheels moving, but once the wheels are set in motion, the machine will go on and on barring friction or some other resisting body. The earth, the moon, the planets, all go on overcoming all resisting bodies. We look on in a sort of master of fact way. It is easy for it to do this now it has had its beginning. How hard it must have been to get this old world started.

This should be a lesson to all men starting in either their first year or second year, even their last year in college. In fact, it should be a lesson to anyone who is starting any undertaking, whatever it may be. Get a good foundation, make a good beginning and you are on your way to success. How many men waste their first few weeks of the college term and then are left hopeless by the side of the road. how many men do not know how to make a good beginning? The reason is that they are left to their own devices.

This is an old story. You all know it. We do not all practice it. That is the reason why I am writing this article. I can make one man in the freshman class a success in any class when I realize that the value of this maxim I will feel that I have been rewarded for all the tears and efforts which I have today put by. Make it a point to begin immediately and surprise yourself. IT'S EASY ONCE YOU GET STARTED.

Mid-Year Examinations Over

The thread of term examinations has now passed for the first quarter of the college year. But some everything looks rosy—until the marks come out; for others, circumstances will be rosy at best for the rest of the year. We are all of the opinion that the latter class is the other class to be included. However, less brilliance on the part of some learners renders work and striving to attain the ultimate goal of success; this incentive would be with-out value if we were all of superior minded.

The second term promises plenty of outside activities to spice the school year. There is football, bowling, boxing, skating, bowling, the annual show, baseball games, and fraternity house parties; college will be no dullest after all. All these diversions are conducive to better work. If you make use of what you look at them, for what kind of an institution would it be without them?

Lucky Strike brings you

The Metropolitan Opera

EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON ON THE AIR

Through these Saturday afternoon broadcasts, direct from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, we endeavor to pay our respects to the inherent good taste of America. The good taste that has brought such overwhelming patronage to Lucky Strike. We feel Lucky Strike are among the finer things of life because in making this famous cigarette we use only the finest tobaccos and only the center leaves. May we express the hope that while you are enjoying the Metropolitan broadcasts you add to that enjoyment by lighting a Lucky Strike?

The Rifle Club area looks forward to the continued support of the student body, upon which the success of the tournament, and its future, depends.

Basketball

Team Loses To New Hampshire

A strong New Hampshire university basketball team had little trouble in defeating Lowell Tutorials in a one-sided basketball game to the tune of 47 to 27 at the gym on Friday evening, January 15. This was the first defeat of the Lowell Glee Club at the hands of the "Wild Cats" in five years.

The Lowell team started to click fairly well in the last minutes of the contest, but the superiority of the New Hampshire quintet could not be denied and matched shot for shot to keep their score well in the lead.

McKinley, Benedict, and Jordan played a splendid game for the victory, while Captain Jack and Baranowski shone for the local outfit.

The Preliminary Game

The Phi Psi defeated the Grecian Fr. 77 to 1, in a startling exhibition of basketball playing provided by members of the fraternity in the preliminary game. Bukala, Dorosz and Subrion played exceptionally well for the winners, while Jensen and Kennedy performed in their usual manner for the Grecian Fr.

"Some of our columns are disappearing," said the Lieutenant, showing the guests over the fortifications.

"Well, things will disappear when you have careless help," replied a woman in the party, "I find that a great problem in keeping house."

"Are you the trained nurse?"
"Yes.
"Well, then, will you please do some of your tricks for Bill and me?"

"Where are you from?"
"From Granite."

"What part?"
"All of me."

Like That

A student failed in an exam in all five subjects he took. He telegraphed to brother—"Fell in all five. Prepare proper answer.” He received the answer—"Papa prepared. Prepare yourself."}

"What is that?" asked Tommy, pointing to a butterfly. "A butterfly, son," replied his mother.

"Where does he keep his butt?"

"For being naughty, Annabel, said her mother, "you shall lose five penny of your weekly allowance." A short time later, another minister took another penny from Annabel's purse. "And if you do that again," warned her mother, "I shall be obliged to deduct two more pennies." "Oh, dear," sighed Annabel, "this is a dreadfully expensive place to live in."

They Satisfy—

You know, that means something

By "blanching" 6 different types of home-grown tobaccos—

By adding just the right amount of the right kinds of Turkish—

By blending and cross-blending—

"welding" these tobaccos together—

We believe we have in Chesterfield a cigarette that's milder and tastes better.

"They Satisfy" has always seemed to us the best way of describing what we mean by this milder better taste.

Ed Donoak, has had the privilege of seeing "Mommy" go to bed several times of late. Why don't you bring to a pair of fine glasses, Ed?

We wonder if Charlie can tell us where the White Bango went. Or maybe Rusty knows.

BRAHMS, the Cocker, has laid in a stock of range oil which he will deliver to Admiral Byrd in the near future. How do you like the coat "Mitzie" has imported from Warsaw for the journey.

"Mother," asked the little one when a number of guests were present at dinner, "will the dessert hurt me, or is there enough to go around?"

"I always wondered where all the Stuhs came from until I arrived here."

"And then what happened?"

"I saw a sign—"Stuhs Manufacturing Company.""
