What's New in Design Dept.

Here we go again with all sorts of new ideas and a hearty welcome to the old and the new.

This year, under the direction of Prof. F. B. STACEY, is proving to be a year of progress and promise. The new designs for the fall semester include some of the most interesting and exciting projects of the past year.

We have seen many distinguished visitors at L.T.I. On September 29, 1950, President Kennedy addressed the students on "The New Deal." On October 6, 1950, President Wilson spoke on "The Value of Education."

Football Practice Proceeds Under Full Steam

A squad of 33 water football players have been engaged in afternoon practice for the past three weeks under the watchful eye of Coach Morey. These drills have been held on the baseball field due to the construction work now taking place on the all-wood football field. In their initial drill, Coach Morey has been instilling his boys on the principles of the game. He has informed the members of the Maritime Academy on October 7 in Lowell. The following statement has been released for the benefit of the membership:

Bowers, Lowell, who have been assigned under the two-weeks' supervision of three men and Joe Murphy. To the amusement of everyone, a hard-hitting and speeded crew showed its strength in far more advanced practices than before.

Lace-up To Be Scheduled

Although spring is still very far away, the students who composed last year's spirited lacrosse team are already anxious. As yet, no official practice has been held due to lack of space. The football team's new coach, Joe Murphy, has been using the baseball grounds while the lacrosse team will practice on the old football field, on the ground opposite the construction work. According to club members, a meeting will be called in a few days in order to get a gymnasium and veteran athlete. A site for practice will be chosen and the fundamentals of stick handling, passing and other principles of lacrosse will be taught.

Your last year's lacrosse team had bought to purchase some new sticks, masks and other equipment. The only funds available were the proceeds from the lacrosse game. Some of the experts of the team out for the squad are: Montag, Scaccia, Faulkner, Bobk, Schain, McHugh, Tessler, Belin, Scott, Sligh and Thomas, Churchill, and Justice. All freshmen and upperclassmen who are interested in lacrosse, are requested to watch the lacrosse game activities to have opportunities for the first time. There appears to be no previous professional experience in this sport.

Activities Award System at Stevens

Hoboken, N. J. (F.P.) — A new

On January 26, a group of students at Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, New Jersey, announced the establishment of a new awards system for students. The system, which is designed to recognize outstanding achievements in various fields, includes awards for academic excellence, extracurricular activities, leadership, and community service.

The new system will be administered by the Student Affairs Office and will be based on a points system. Students will receive points for their academic achievements, participation in extracurricular activities, leadership roles, and community service. Points will be awarded on a quarterly basis and will be accumulated over the academic year.

In addition to the awards, students who earn a certain number of points will be eligible for scholarships and other forms of financial assistance. The Student Affairs Office will also provide opportunities for students to develop leadership skills and community service through various initiatives.

The new awards system is part of the institute's effort to recognize and reward students for their achievements and contributions to the Stevens community. The system is expected to be well-received by students and faculty alike.

Non-Attendance Penalties Abolished

New York, N. Y. (F.P.) — The new penalties for non-attendance at class will begin on September 20. According to the new policy, students will not be penalized for non-attendance at class, with the exception of specific cases such as illness, family emergencies, or other extenuating circumstances.

The new policy is part of the university's effort to provide a more flexible and accommodating environment for students. The university recognizes the importance of attendance in the learning process, but also understands the challenges that students may face in attending class.

The university has also implemented a new system for students to report absences. Students will be required to submit a written excuse for their absence, and the excuse will be reviewed by the dean of students. If the excuse is deemed valid, the absence will be excused.

The university hopes that the new policy and system will be well-received by students and faculty alike.
The picture was directed by Billy Wilder and is one of the few films in which Hollywood actually looks like itself in a penetrate manner. This is not an objective criticism. Ninth Street cinema founder and master of the film's cameraman, Jack of the Picture, turns to the forgiveness performances. Of course, Miss Swanson, now the woman's number one of fifty-five year old glamour girls, gives a performance which will probably win her an Oscar. Fortunately, her brief impersonation of Charlie Chaplin is appreciated. Also present is the Dutchman Broussard, as Miss Swanson's chauffeur and man of all work, and a girl, Nancy Olson, who, in her first screen appearance, proves that beauty and ability may come in a very attractive mixture.

One day after the release of the picture, there was a very fine performance. Compare Chesterfields with any other cigarette!

Before you smoke them

...you can tell Chesterfields will smoke milder, because tobacco that small milder smoke milder.

After you smoke them

...you have no unpleasant after-taste.

While you smoke them

...you get more pleasure than any other cigarette can give you—that's why millions of smokers say: they satisfy.
