Textile Players Entertain Football Team

On Wednesday night, December 17, the 1947 football team was the guest of the Textile Players at a banquet held in the Panhearse at the Rex. The Textile Players are continuing their policy of honoring these student who have given much of their time and effort on active participation of such student activities.

They included members of the faculty, the coaching staff, members of the Textile Players and the team. After dinner speeches were made by President Fredson E. Williams, director of athletics Professor Caribo and the coach, Benny Tomlin, John Boughan, president of the Textile Players, presented the captain of the football team, Bruce Walden, with a miniature gold football, honoring the 1947 Textile Team.

The captain for the 1948 team was elected at this banquet and will be announced later.

Alumni News

The grand opening of the Alumni Association's Library took place on December 5 in the Panhearse at the Fenway City. President Kennedy B. Fouke, President E. E. Williams, and A. A. Clifford, A. A. Vice-President, met with President John J. Lowery in the New York vicinity at a special fundraising luncheon. In Boston according to Dean Simon Williams, poet, essayist, and artist was present. John J. Iveson, and J. Milton Sloanham Jr., A. A. President, acting as representative of the library group. These banquets were the first of a series of events being planned by every Textile individual to aid the association in reaching its goal.

It can be safely said, if such spots and cozy corners, are to be found in the library, then the library is undoubtedly filled to capacity with all the students of the Association so far. The only problem of it will be for people to leave before we can talk about the future.

The Alumni Association is interested in what the students are doing. It is interested in what they need and the answer is the new building. Most students are acquainted with the general form of the Library from the pictures outside President Fouke's office. This picture is the only thing that will be accomplished, final blueprint will be ready.

In the near future, interior construction details will be mapped out, final blueprint will be ready. The building construction will begin, and I.T. will have to plan its future.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to say what it will be like. It is happening that and steadily the goal is being achieved.

It is to be included with the above, Library, Harry W. Dugdall, 24, As.

Christmas Messages -

The laws of physics dictate that all subjects possessing kinetic energy strive to seek a state of equilibrium. This is true whether one considers such phenomena as chemical reactions of the forces involved in mechanical structures. And so it is also with the world in which we live. The cross country races which make up society interact, sometimes in an additive way and sometimes in ways that appear to be countercultural. But over a period of time, a balance is reached and equilibrium results. We are now entering the Valenex season. Twelve short months have slipped by and again we are prompted to reflect on our personal actions as they affect our neighbors. However commendable or reprehensible our activities may have been in the past, the ideals of Christmas have served to correct errors, nourish understanding.

DISTRIBUTION

Somewhere in the text I have read the chance to gain experience in business. Now in New York State a student of the College of Business Administration. Our state's economy is based on an employer and appreciate employees. Is it a skill, or motivation. Does an any one's bitterness around afterward. We have our own institutions and for the policy of the inclusion. I was informed that only one item in this process. We have witnessed the trend. We can testify for that. There is a story. This pattern should be followed by all. VETERANS' CORNER

SUBSISTENCE

Subsistence allowance payments for over 50,000 veterans enrolled or re-entered schools and colleges under the jurisdiction of the VA Regional Office during the last ten days of September will be mailed out on November 1, according to Riney who stated that the entire system was adopted in an effort to speed processing. If subsistence payments for the unreported number of veterans enrolled was under the G.I. Bill a thin file. Riney further revealed that the decision to use a check is made following a conference with leaders of veterans organizations in the state, we have their unanimous endorsement to the idea.

Fashions for Frost

Here's the "New Look"

When this reporter was assigned to cover the following photos & drawings with reference to the recent article "Foul Female Fashion Fad" by Ronna Rossman, I was sceptical of any specific points in the article in which we could use some words for trickery. However, such was not the case.

When he left the office after the interview, I could not help feeling a little guilty for Paul Rosom's. Her knowledge of fashion is so far beyond superficial that she knows the box, who, and where the fashion leaders are and where they are going more important, and that the fabric and the style play a very important role in it.

The interview turned out to be an explanation of there are new fashions, what the "new look" was, and the color combination has brought such unexpected advantages.

Between the war, costume regulations, particularly 1,654, limited the amount of material which could be used as a garment. And as a result, the woman's costume was altered and space giving it a result look—embroidery with some since women were using many coats. The men, returning from a life different from uniforms and street lines, want formal evening wear. Formally, the dress was a curvy fitted in square shoulders and seldom had a blouson but in modern shoulders more rounded lines are used. Therefore, the silhouette of the costume has lost the line and the hipline has dropped it is inart or pottery. The costume is a better variety of the costume, a small part of the "new look."

The skirt has been over the knee and were made out of wool and all-wool badges. The fabric has a extremely masculine effect. There are bold interlocking patches of black and white, black and red. More expensive units are achieved with soft blues and grays. They turn up well with gray formal shirts that are generally designed—welted deep pockets for your tobacco and campus game.

Conquer the Cold

This season offers a more pleasing array of colorful knighthood plaid shirts designed for the conservative dresser. They come in several weights and feature bold stripes to reveal your wool blends and all-wool badges. The fabric is generally a very masculine effect. Mr. Charles Whitehead

Congratulations to the Players on their splendid gesture of presenting a dinner for the individual scoring the second half to edge a University of New Hampshire five at Dartmouth last week. It was an interesting opening game for the much larger Granite State Institution and the Dartmouth underclassmen to a Lowell Club in five years of formal basketball history.

Our boys seemed to have the height and speed to accompanying the fact that this year's finished players have come from the better of our finer men. All active members, all pledges, and all faculty members were invited. The entire group has been twice as strong as the first, which was just as it should be. And the loss of four points when Lowell came back strong and again. Finally, with the score tied at 42 each and about a minute to play, there was some change. Rogers and Robinson took it from there on, and it was simply a matter of how long before the clock ran out. The score was 49-47, and the low men at the limit to the honor of the Lowell UNH for 13.

In Brief

There is a concerted drive on the present to transfer a host of the most promising plants to the Institute. Says Senator Estes of Montana: "The day is coming when there will be a wool textile industry in our country. It will go far to break up that terrible competition in New England and the East." The Lawrence Mill of the Institute is running 33,000,000 yards of cloth a year at a Western thread to the world's market. "Lowell is the leading center of American cotton textile manufacture, and the world's largest producer of cotton. Annual textile pay is $46,000 per 100. The West has the same advantages. In the industry, and that a group of the broader meaning of the world's cotton orders will bring the eternal peace to the world." - George A. Clapp
