Have lunch in Boston with five of the most influential women in Washington.
The Event Committee

HONORARY CHAIRS:
Teresa Heinz
Victoria Reggie Kennedy
Ellen Murphy

EVENT CHAIR:
Alice Moore

HOST COMMITTEE:
Nancy Ahin Sullivan
Ginny Allan
Mary Anastopoulous
Susan Bailis
Terese Bolton
Mary Breslauer
Suzanne Bump
Ann Cahill

The Event
Friday, May 1, 1998
11:30 - 12:30 VIP RECEPTION
$1,000
12:30 - 2:00 LUNCHEON
$125

Boston Park Plaza, 64 Arlington Street, Boston, MA
RSVP with enclosed card. For more information, call (978) 251-8804.

Please join us for the luncheon event of the year and hear the insights of five of Washington's most influential women. Friday May 1st at Boston Park Plaza, 64 Arlington Street, Boston. Please RSVP with enclosed card. For more information, call (978) 251-8804. Paid for by the Marty Meehan for Congress Committee.
Marty Meehan—advocate for women’s issues

Whether it is health care, job security or choice, Marty Meehan has been at the forefront of the fight on Capitol Hill to promote the issues that matter most to American women. Marty Meehan is the leading member on the House National Security Committee advancing equity and opportunity for women in the military. He also consistently has opposed efforts to dilute a woman’s right to a safe and legal abortion. In addition, as the Boston Globe noted on Feb. 21, 1993, “Marty Meehan puts his money where his mouth is” by each year donating his pay raise to non-profit groups that combat domestic violence, deliver medical care and provide other needed resources for women.